

Can't make it to the NCHN Annual Conference in New Orleans?

Live Streaming Video - FREE - for NCHN Members!

- NCHN and our Silver Sponsor, Virtual Care Works, have networked to allow the Keynote Presentation to be viewed by NCHN members who are not able to attend the 2013 Annual Conference in New Orleans – free of charge!
- Follow this NCHN link to download the thin client application software and join as a guest in the NCHN Virtual Conference Room by clicking:

NCHN Conference - VCW Live Link

- We recommend that you test your computer compatibility by downloading the software application early, and test the connection next Tuesday, April 16 from 10:00 AM CST to 2:00 PM CST; or Wednesday, April 17 from 8:00 AM CST to 9:00 AM CST - (just before the presentation). The start of the live video stream is scheduled for 9:15 AM CST – 11:30 AM CST, Wednesday, April 17, 2013. Virtual Care Works technical support will be available to assist you with connectivity issues. Please contact us with your technical questions by email: CustomerCare@VirtualCareWorks.com

“Power of Networks”

Jessica Lipnack, CEO, Netage

In the long history of organizations—beginning when we first formed small tribes to survive—the network is the newest, the most powerful, and, at the same time, the oldest form of organization. How can the network motivate people—and organizations—to take risks and do what they cannot do alone? How can networks become powerful magnets to attract others and spur participation? How can members of networks compete and cooperate at the same time? How can everyone—and every organization—in the network become a leader? And how can we think differently about evaluating and measuring networks? In this talk, combined with question and answer, we'll put our heads together to address these issues and leave the morning session with a new understanding of the power of networks.

We've got you covered!

